

REMARKS

Claim 1 is pending in the above-identified application. Claim 1 is hereby amended. Applicants respectfully submit that this Amendment is fully responsive to the Office Action dated April 24, 2006.

Claim 1 was rejected under 35 U.S.C. §102 as being anticipated by Mori (JP 2002321739A.) To expedite prosecution and clarify the subject matter of the present invention, Applicants hereby amend claim 1. Support for this amendment is found, for example, on page 5, lines 22 through page 6, line 2; page 9, lines 1-4; and page 12, lines 12-15 of the specification. In view of this amendment and the following remarks, Applicants respectfully request that the Examiner withdraw the anticipation rejection of claim 1.

Briefly, anticipation requires the presence in a single prior art reference the disclosure of each and every element of the claimed invention, arranged as in the claim. Here, Mori does not teach or suggest protruding portions are formed in respective corner areas of the bottom fitting portion, said protruding portions are fitted into respective fitting concave portions formed in the folding container below when the folding containers are assembled into a box shape and stacked on one another. Although Mora discloses a folding container having a rectangular bottom, the reference does not discuss or depict a bottom fitting portion. Instead, Mora is merely concerned with the manner of how a folding container is to be folded. See Abstract. Accordingly, the anticipation rejection is unsupported by the cited art and should be withdrawn.
